African Heart Patient Out Of Oxygen Tent

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Groote Schuur Hospital said in a medical bulletin today that Dr. Philip Blaiberg, the world's third heart transplant patient, "is no longer in the oxygen tent and will be allowed to sit up in bed today with his feet on a chair."

The 58-year-old retired dentist neared what doctors consider to be the beginning of the critical postoperative period—seven days after surgery. However, the bulletin said there were no signs yet that Blaiberg's body was trying to reject the heart of Clive Haupt, 24, who died of a brain hemorrhage.

Haupt's heart was grafted into Blaiberg last Tuesday by Dr. Christian Barnard, who also performed the landmark heart transplant operation last month on Louis Washkansky. Washkansky died of pneumonia 18 days after the operation.

No infection is evident in any of Blaiberg's organs so far, the hospital said. His wife, Eileen, was to see him again today but to guard against infection she was expected to speak to him once more through a glass door.

Mrs. Blaiberg said of her first visit with her husband Sunday: "He was looking too wonderful for words. He joked all the time and was very talkative." She added that he looked as healthy as he had five years ago, before his diseased heart began making him look sickly.

The dentist is now on an ordinary diet, but all his food is prepared on a special cooker and sterile utensils are used, the hospital said.

Barnard sent his congratulations to his classmate from the University of Minnesota, Dr. Norman E. Shumway, who performed the world's fourth heart transplant operation at Stanford University Saturday night.

In an interview with the National Broadcasting Corp. shown Saturday night in the United States, Barnard disclosed that arthritis in his hands may limit or even end his surgical career. He said the arthritis has been with him ever since his days as a student in America in the 1950s.

In Johannesburg, meanwhile, good progress was reported in another pioneering surgical feat, the separation of Siamese twins at the forehead. The twins—3-month-old girls born two weeks prematurely—were taken off the danger list today at the Johannesburg Children's Hospital and a bulletin said they "continue to make good progress."

If the girls survive, it is believed the operation will be recorded as the first in which Siamese twins joined at the forehead have been successfully separated.

Negro Housing Pinch Is Eased

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Conference on Religion and Race says it will be easier for Negroes to obtain housing in the suburbs next year.

In its year-end report, issued Sunday, the conference noted it had assisted 87 Negro families in obtaining housing in predominantly white communities during 1967. Howard W. Smith, conference housing director, predicted the number would triple in 1968.

Stroke Victim Helps Disease Victim

California Heart Transplant Works

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — With the transplanted heart of a housewife sustaining him, Mike Kasperak is reported to be doing "quite well," fully conscious and responsive.

Kasperak, a 54-year-old former steelworker from nearby East Palo Alto, was dying of heart disease Saturday night when Dr. Norman E. Shumway's surgical team at Stanford University School of Medicine operated on him. The doctors cut out his heart and implanted the heart of Virginia White, a 43-year-old Santa Clara woman who died of a stroke two hours before.

By Sunday morning Kasperak was conscious and able to move. Though he couldn't talk because of a tube in his throat helping him to breathe, doctors said he recognized his family.

Shumway said his patient knew he had a donated heart beating in his chest. It was one-third the size of the enlarged one that had been discarded, but it was performing well, Shumway said.

Blood pressure, pulse and body temperature were in a reasonable range, Dr. Donald C. Harrison, a cardiologist, told a news conference at Stanford Medical Center Sunday afternoon. Harrison said the heart output—a mount of blood pumped—was 5.3 liters per minute, "almost normal for a man of Kasperak's size" when measured about 12 hours after the 4½-hour operation. The patient weighs 144 pounds, Mrs. White's weight was 120.

Long Hospital Stay
"His cardiogram looked quite

good," Dr. Harrison said.

Dr. Shumway said Kasperak was expected to stay in the hospital many months for observation.

"This kind of followup is essential to the well being of the recipient," Dr. Shumway said. "We've reached first base perhaps, but the work is only beginning."

He stressed, "There is no way at this time to term the episode a success." But his and Harrison's elation were evident.

"The critical period lasts as long as the patient lives," Dr. Shumway said, explaining that the body could reject a foreign organ months or even years after it entered the body.

Kasperak is being given drugs to suppress the rejection mechanism.

Chronic viral myocarditis, an infection that the steelworker contracted perhaps 10 years ago, had been arrested, the doctors explained. But his heart muscle continued to turn into fibrous tissue and enlarge.

Could Not Work

He had been suffering chronic heart failure for the past two years and was forced to quit work 18 months ago. A severe episode put him in the hospital three weeks ago.

Dr. Harrison said the patient "was in severe heart failure" at the time of the transplant, to which he had consented if a suitable donor could be found.

Mrs. White, a camper and water skier, had no history of serious illness before she suffered a stroke on Friday, the day after her 22nd wedding anniversary, and lapsed into a coma.

She was kept alive by artificial respiration and drugs but the family doctor and a specialist told her husband, Bill, there was no hope.

Give Another A Chance

Bill (Charles W.) White and his wife had talked about heart transplantations a week before. "How marvelous," she said, "to be able to give someone else a chance to live."

White asked the doctors if there was some way his dying wife could help somebody else. Dr. Shumway said her heart might save Kasperak.

White, an electrical company administrator, talked it over with daughter Judy, 18, son Ricky, 12, and his wife's mother.

"They all said yes, and when I talked with Dr. Shumway about 30 minutes later, I said yes," White related.

"Knowing that she is helping another is easing our grief. She was the type who would want to do this," he said.

Doctors said they made every effort to keep Mrs. White alive but finally her heart and breathing halted and she had no reflexes. She had died.

Kidney To Another

The surgical team, previously alerted, transplanted her heart to Kasperak, the fourth human heart transplant. They transplanted one of her kidneys to another patient in the hospital.

The kidney transplant was successful, hospital spokesmen said, but they did not identify the recipient immediately.

Dr. Shumway predicted that heart transplantations will develop as kidney transplantations did. The heart transplant he and his team performed after almost eight years of laboratory experimental surgery on dogs is a clinical trial, he said. The operation today must be restricted to desperation cases for which there is no other answer, the surgeon added, "but with more information the heart transplant eventually may become therapy."

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in a New York interview that Rockefeller, who has said he isn't a candidate, "may surprise everyone and stick to his stand."

Javits supports Gov. George Romney of Michigan but said if Romney's bid fails, "I wouldn't feel at all inhibited looking toward Gov. Nelson Rockefeller."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A young girl who told police she purchased a rifle from a downtown gun store Thursday remains in city jail today, charged in the sniper woundings of two Catholic nuns.

Heart Transfer Doctors Lauded On Originality

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Owen Wangenstein, who trained them, says Dr. Norman E. Shumway and Dr. Christian Barnard, the heart transplant surgeons, had "tremendous ability and a lot of originality."

Dr. Wangenstein, 70, who headed the department of surgery at the University of Minnesota for 37½ years, said, however, that his role in their development was that of a "sideline cheerleader."

He said he worked to create an atmosphere where the students could develop freely.

"A lot of people came here because we were interested in research," said Wangenstein, now professor emeritus. "We weren't stereotyped. We had, really, no restrictive rules, so they could go far afield in their work."

Shumway headed the surgical team at Stanford University which Saturday transplanted the heart of a 43-year-old housewife into the chest of Mike Kasperak, 54, and is credited with developing the technique now used in heart transplants.

Barnard headed the team in Cape Town, South Africa, that made the world's first and third human heart transplants.

Shumway did his internship at Minnesota in 1949-50, and then undertook his advanced surgical training and earned a Ph.D. degree. He left Minnesota in 1958 to go to the Stanford University medical school, where he now heads the division of cardiovascular surgery.

Barnard received heart surgery training at Minnesota from 1956 until 1958.

Wangenstein said Shumway did much work with animals to perfect the technique he used Saturday.

Fowler Hints At 6-8 Pct Surtax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler has opened the door to a crack—just a little crack—to the possibility the administration will seek a tax hike lower than the 10 per cent it unsuccessfully sought in the last session of Congress.

"I am aware of some discussion of whether or not 8 per cent would be adequate or 6 per cent would be adequate," Fowler said Sunday. He added he would reserve judgement until the House Ways and Means Committee resumes hearings Jan. 22 on President Johnson's tax plans.

In the first session of the 90th Congress, Johnson's 10 per cent surcharge bill died in the committee. Fowler said his "current inclination" is that the 10 per cent originally requested "is good insurance to have."

Fowler has said a tax hike would improve the nation's financial standing and help reduce the $3.5 billion balance-of-payments deficit.

He said the Vietnam war is responsible for about $1.5 billion of the deficit but rejected a suggestion that the dollar drain would force the United States to curtail military commitments overseas.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., called Sunday for the withdrawal of four of the six divisions of U.S. troops in Europe in order to reduce overseas spending and thus, he said, strengthen the dollar.

The United States is spending $1.5 billion to $2 billion a year to maintain forces in Western Europe, said Proxmire, chairman of the Joint Economic Committee.

Nicholas Katzenbach, undersecretary of state, returned home Sunday from Europe and reported widespread support in European capitals for the U.S. campaign to stem the dollar drain.

He told newsmen that every capital he visited—in Britain, France, West Germany, Switzerland, Belgium and Italy—"approved the principles but some expressed concern about specific provisions."

"Yet there was universal approval that President Johnson is taking such strong measures," Katzenbach said.

Cold Reprieve Is Due Tuesday

Court Overrules McDonald Firing

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court today overruled Gov. George Romney's dismissal of Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald as state adjutant general, saying Romney's action was "contrary to law."

In a 5-1 decision, the Supreme Court ruled that although Romney acted under a section of the State Constitution giving him the right to remove a department head, the Department of Military Affairs had not yet been organized.

The removal of McDonald as adjutant general took place on May 20, 1965, two months prior to the effective date of the Executive Organization Act, which fell on July 23, 1965.

The Constitution states that the head of each principal department shall be a single executive, appointed by the governor and serving at the pleasure of the governor.

No Department
"As there was no principal department at the time of the removal proceedings, there could be no head thereof serving 'at the pleasure of the governor,'" the Supreme Court said in an opinion written by Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Romney fired McDonald after a 93-hour hearing into alleged irregularities in the Michigan military establishment, involving land deals at Camp Grayling and military funds.

The governor said he found McDonald guilty of misfeasance, malfeasance and gross neglect of duty.

McDonald appealed the dismissal but the State Court of Appeals upheld Romney, saying

Forecast For Wednesday Is Cold; -17 Today

There's a break coming today in the bitterly cold weather that plummeted the mercury to an official 17 below in Escanaba this morning.

But don't expect too much, the weatherman warns, for the "warm up" will still be a chilly near zero tonight.

The high today was expected to be 5 with light snow, which was welcome after a weekend when unofficial readings in the area brought reports of 25-below. There have been zero or below readings (officially) in Escanaba for 11 of the last 13 days.

-17 Below Today

After the bitter -17 last night, the mercury climbed slowly to -12 at 5 a.m. after a night of unseasonable cold. Severe and protracted cold usually does not strike the Northern Michigan region until late January or early February.

The weather outlook: Light snow and warmer tonight with the low near zero; Tuesday light snow and warmer; Wednesday partly cloudy and turning colder.

Schools Open

Schools in the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate District were operating despite the cold, according to Supt. Raymond Godmer's office, but the Felch and North Dickinson schools on the Menominee Range were closed.

Francis D'Amour, city water utility superintendent, said there had been about 15 calls in the weekend for electric thawing of frozen water pipes. These were inside homes where the pipes were not protected. There were very few calls last winter because of the mild weather, but about 300 in a recent cold winter when the frost went deep because of lack of snow cover.

Prolonged deep cold at this time of the winter is unusual, said D'Amour. It usually comes in February and lasts for about 30 days.

Fear For Spring

North Central Airlines reported its weekend service near schedule, a bit late some mornings in arrival because of cold weather difficulties in originating the flight at Marquette. The new Convair 580 turboprops are behaving very well in the cold weather as successors to the 440 and causing less difficulties.

William Karas, Delta County Road Commission superintendent-engineer, said that in addition to the incidental problems of getting motor equipment going, the "deep freeze" portends some serious troubles for county roads next spring.

There were rains last fall that filled drainage ditches and the cold has frozen this into places like culverts, where in the spring there may be dams of ice to prevent proper runoff when the weather warms.

"I fear we may get a flooding in the spring if there is a fast thaw," Karas said.

William VanEtten, city electric utility superintendent, said that the cold would show up on electric customers' bills, as furnaces use more power for igniters, pumps and fans in cold weather and it also takes more power to heat water because it gets colder as the winter advances until March, when it starts warming.

Wakefield -33

Record-shattering cold locked Michigan in an icebox of temperatures ranging to 33 degrees below zero today.

The mercury plunged to 33 below at Wakefield, a town of 3,200 in extreme western Upper Michigan, according to unofficial State Police reports.

Pellston shivered in 29-below-zero weather and Sault Ste. Marie recorded a record low temperature of 28 below early today, the U.S. Weather Bureau reported.

Record Was -51

At the moment the mercury was falling to its lowest readings, the warmest temperature anywhere in Michigan was only 5 above zero—at snowy Muskegon—the Weather Bureau said.

But the severity of the cold still didn't come close to the coldest temperature ever recorded in Michigan, 51 below

Surveyor Goal Is Rough Area On Moon Face

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A final direction change will be sent tonight to Surveyor 7, the last scheduled U.S. unmanned mooncraft, speeding toward a planned soft landing on rugged lunar terrain.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory will adjust the path of the instrument-loaded craft in an attempt to put it 18 miles north of the crater Tycho, near the south-central edge of the lunar disc.

Surveyor is expected to be some 51,000 miles from the moon when the course alteration is made at 10:30 p.m., PST. The landing is planned for Tuesday night.

Controllers radioed an initial direction change Sunday afternoon and said the operation went well.

The course adjustments were necessary because the booster rocket that powered the 2,288-pound vehicle from Cape Kennedy, Fla., early Sunday aimed it at the crater Hipparchus, 1,000 miles north of Tycho.

U.S. space agency scientists had designated Hipparchus as the target but then decided the Tycho region was better suited to the mission's goal of sampling subsurface material. Because it is a newer crater, the soil ejected when Tycho was created has had less time to be changed by erosion.

Engineers figured it would be easier to change Surveyor's course in flight than to rebuild the booster's electronics. Earlier Surveyors have required only one course correction.

The highlands north of Tycho were picked although they appear to be rugged, and computer analysis gives Surveyor 7 a 43 per cent chance of landing safely. Surveyors 5 and 6, both of which were successful, were given 47 per cent chances.

Surveyor 7's target area is only 12 miles in diameter whereas previous Surveyor target areas were 37 miles wide. A Jet Propulsion lab spokesman said the spacecraft is aimed at a "relatively smooth but still damned rough" piece of terrain.

The unmanned flight is to be the last lunar mission before man makes the trip, perhaps next year.

Sihanouk Dooms Bowles Mission; Urges Pullout

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Chester Bowles arrived today to seek Prince Norodom Sihanouk's help in keeping North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces from using Cambodia as a sanctuary.

No "Right Of Pursuit"
In response to questions submitted by The Associated Press, Sihanouk said Saturday that "we would not intervene militarily if a fight between Americans and infiltrated Vietnamese, therefore one as much at fault as the other, took place in the outlying and uninhabited regions of our territory."

But the prince told the news conference Sunday he would not allow U.S. forces to pursue the Viet Cong into Cambodia and would condemn both sides if they clashed on his soil.

Sihanouk said he would tell Bowles there is "no possibility of negotiating the right of pursuit" of Communist forces into Cambodia.

The prince also said he would tell Bowles the United States should follow France's example in Algeria and "rid yourself of them in Vietnam and then retreat into Cambodia."

Year Of Elections Confronting Voters

By CLINT DUNATHAN
Citizens who take seriously their voting obligations have a busy year in store for them, with at least seven and possibly eight trips to the polling booth scheduled for this year.

Most importantly, of course, is the presidential balloting to take place at the general election in November, climaxing political contests that will arouse worldwide interest.

No voter will want to miss out in casting a ballot that will help shape the future, not only on such matters as foreign policy for the United States, but also to elect those who set policy for local schools and Escanaba city government.

Jan. 30 Deadline
Escanaba City Clerk Don Guindon reports that voters who have not cast ballots in the past two years will have their name removed from the registration rolls unless they act quickly.

The so-called "purging" of the voter registration is required under state law. In Escanaba there were 300 names of persons who were discovered to have failed to vote in the past two years, and each was sent a written notice of his lapse of registration.

They received cards inviting them to return the cards within 30 days so their registration can be reinstated. The deadline for the return of the cards is Jan. 30.

"Eighty of the 300 have returned the cards so far and we are urging others who received them to get them back as quickly as possible," said Guindon. "If they are not returned by Jan. 30 their registration will be suspended."

Must Return Cards
James M. Hare, secretary of state, said the "purging" of the voting registration files is being carried out in all cities and townships in Michigan.

Jamar Given Bronze Star

U.S. Air Force Capt. Louis G. Jamar, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Guibransen, live in Spalding, has been decorated with the Bronze Star Medal at Tan Son Nhut AB, Vietnam, for meritorious service while engaged in military operations against Viet Cong forces.

Capt. Jamar was cited for his outstanding performance as deputy chief of staff for civil engineering, Headquarters 7th Air Force, Tan Son Nhut.

A 1955 graduate of Powerspelling High School, the captain received his B.S. degree in engineering in 1959 from Michigan Technological University where he was commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps program. He also holds an M.S. degree in engineering from Texas Technological College.

Captain Jamar's wife, Jacquelyn, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Evans of Panama City, Fla.

If citizens do not return the card within the prescribed 30-day period they will have to re-register with their city or township clerk in person. Failure to re-register will, of course, make the citizen ineligible to vote in the general presidential election.

There are other elections, equally important from the standpoint of good citizenship, that require the attention of voters this year.

In Escanaba and the Townships of Ford River, Wells and Cornell on Feb. 20 the voters will ballot on the question of increased operating millage for the Escanaba Area Public School district. The date of the election has been established by the board of education.

City Council
City of Escanaba voters will go to the polls on April 1 to elect three members to the five-man city Council.

The terms of Councilmen George Rusch, H. George Nelson and Cecil Chase are expiring. Chase is filling an unexpired term, caused by the death of Jacob Bink.

The hold-over members of the Council are Harold Vanlerberghe and Edward J. Cox. In June there are the elections to pick trustees of school boards, not only in Escanaba but in other school districts as well.

College Millage
This will be followed by the August primary election when candidates are nominated for state and legislative offices; followed in turn by the November general election.

Not scheduled as yet, but in the making is a referendum to be called by the Bay de Noc Community College board on the question of raising millage for operation of the college.

There's a new state law that has benefit to elder citizens, reports City Clerk Guindon.

Registered voters 70 years of age and older may vote absent voters ballot in any election if they desire. "All they need to do is to drop me a line in advance of the election and request a ballot, and it will be mailed to them," Guindon said. The request would be addressed to the township clerk if the senior citizen resides outside the city.

Airmail Now 10 Cents An Ounce Letters Need 6¢ Stamps Today!

Escanaba Postmaster James Pryal today reminded mailers that new higher postage rates become effective Sunday including a 6-cents-an-ounce charge for first-class letters.

Other new rates are: 10 cents an ounce for air mail, 5 cent each for postal cards, and 8 cents each for air postal cards. The 20 per cent raise in first-class letter rates is a smaller percentage raise than that imposed on other types of mail.

Pryal said that there has been a 24 per cent raise in the rates for mailing newspapers and magazines and a 34 per cent hike in the charges for advertising circulars, "occupant" mail and other bulk third class mail items.

The new rate provisions also establish important rate changes for heavier first-class mail pieces, Pryal explained.

If the first-class mail piece weighs more than 13 ounces, it will go automatically by the fastest transportation available — meaning air service usually.

"Heavier first-class pieces, above 13 ounces, will be merged with air parcel post under a single rate schedule," he said, "and all air mail above 7 ounces also will be subject to the air parcel post rate schedule."

Pryal assured local residents of plenty of one-cent stamps on hand for use with existing stocks of 5 cent stamps. There are also adequate supplies of 6-cent stamps to meet the new first class letter rate.

Elsewhere in the country some post offices reported sell-outs of the new stamps. Some four billion 6-cent stamps bearing the profile of Franklin D. Roosevelt have been printed since Dec. 1. Also fresh from the presses are 1½ billion Andrew Jackson one-centers and 500 million each of the new 10-cent airmailers and 5-cent postal cards.

The higher rates are effective also for other categories of mail used primarily by large volume mailers. These include bulk third class advertising mail rates, special rates for books, films and records.

Silent Protest Staged At Trial Of Red Writers

MOSCOW (AP) — The trial of three Soviet writers and a woman typist began today with Western newsmen barred from the courtroom along with about 50 relatives and friends of the defendants.

The relatives and friends stood for an hour in zero weather in the snow outside the bleak Moscow City courthouse for what they termed "a silent protest."

The chief defendants, Alexander Ginsburg, 31, and Yuri Galanskov, 28, are believed on trial for the publication outside Russia of "The White Book of the Sinyavsky-Daniel Affair."

The book, printed in the Soviet Union and smuggled to Western Europe, is a collection of trial documents and protests over the sentencing of satirists Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Yuli

M. Daniel, convicted in 1966 for publishing anti-Soviet writings abroad. The two were sentenced to hard labor camps, Sinyavsky for seven years, Daniel for five.

The other defendants, poet Alexei Dobrovolsky and Vera Lashkova, are reported charged in connection with the publication of the underground magazine Phoenix 66. Sources said Miss Lashkova's involvement was limited to typing for the others.

The four are charged under a law prohibiting anti-Soviet agitation and propaganda. The maximum penalty is seven years at hard labor.

The Moors introduced the guitar into Spain in the 12th century. The instrument had four pairs of strings and the Spaniards added a fifth pair.

Road Mishaps Claim 4 Lives

By The Associated Press

Four persons died on Michigan highways over the weekend, three of them pedestrians struck down by cars as they were walking along rural roads.

The Associated Press count of traffic fatalities began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight Sunday.

The victims:

Mary E. Rodriguez, 20, of Grand Ledge, who was struck by a car early Sunday while walking along M 43 in Eaton County's Delta Township.

Virginia M. Guerim, 54, of Grand Blanc, killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Genesee County's Burton Township.

Douglas Pace, 12, of Ypsilanti, struck by a car Friday night on Stony Creek Road in Washtenaw County's Ypsilanti Township.

Alice Betz, 39, of Holt, struck by a car Friday night in Clinton County's DeWitt Township.

Red Raiders Kill 3 Yank Advisers

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas seized a provincial capital only 21 miles northwest of Saigon early today and held it for nearly three hours.

The attack on Kheim Cuong, capital of Hau Nghia province, was the second daring raid by Communist troops on a government center close to Saigon in three days.

A government spokesman said about 700 guerrillas stormed Kheim Cuong behind a barrage of several hundred mortar rounds and they "were in the streets."

Three American advisers to the militia force in the town were killed at 3 a.m. and 14 were wounded. One officer said the advisers' compound apparently was a chief target.

The Viet Cong pulled out at 5:50 a.m. and evaded three battalions of government troops converging on the village from their bivouac areas three to five miles away.

The guerrillas left behind 19 dead comrades and five live ones who were captured, the spokesman said. Two of the captives were wounded.

The spokesman said nine policemen were killed and 10 were wounded, at least four civilians were killed and 16 wounded, and the garrison of some 100 militiamen suffered moderate casualties, meaning they were hit hard. Ten houses also were destroyed.

The guerrillas succeeded in hanging a large Viet Cong flag on the wall of the military advisers' compound, but it was quickly shot away.

Early Saturday soldiers of the 10th North Vietnamese battalion shot their way into the village of Tan Uyen 25 miles north of Saigon. In a five-hour rampage they killed eight soldiers and six civilians and wounded 35 soldiers and 11 civilians. South Vietnamese officers said 19 of the attackers were killed.

Over the weekend persistent Communist attacks on allied posts in South Vietnam's northernmost provinces led to hard fighting and heavy casualties on both sides.

The death toll reported from skirmishes and shelling Saturday and Sunday in the 1st Corps area was 296 Communists and 75 Americans killed, with 177 Americans wounded.

Record 'Tax' Paid By State

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department has mailed out payments totaling $806,400 to 77 Michigan counties in lieu of 1967 taxes for about 4 million acres of land under state jurisdiction.

The record payments were $400 higher than last year, represent.

The county payments are based on 20 cents an acre for such conservation properties as

U.P. Counties

Schoolcraft County will receive $57,715, second high to Luce's $57,209, for Upper Peninsula Counties receiving 'taxes' from the state.

Delta's take is among the low ones—$11,843. Menominee's share is $18,146.

state parks, forests, recreation areas, public fishing sites and wildlife areas.

Northern Michigan counties received the bulk of the payments. The Upper Peninsula counties received $403,715, northern Lower Peninsula counties received $389,562 and only $13,130 went to counties in the southern Lower Peninsula.

The department will send out another payment of about $400,000 before the end of February. These payments in lieu of taxes will be pegged to prevailing local millage rates and will cover state lands purchased in that section of the state.

The latter payments will go directly to township treasurers. The first payments, mailed this week, went to the counties and will be distributed to the school districts and townships according to their state land acreage.

Board To Set Millage Request

The Escanaba Area Board of Education Tuesday will set the amount of millage to be requested from voters of the school district at a special election Feb. 20.

Amount of the millage proposal is the first item listed for action on the agenda for the board's regular meeting at 8 p.m. at the school administration building.

The Area School District is operating this school year at a deficit forced by voter rejection last August of a five mill proposal. The deficit is expected to range between $90,000 and $100,000.

Cutbacks in the school program were made to reduce the deficit, however, including the school system's hot lunch program.

The agenda also included five other items of new business and 12 discussions items from Supt. Luther M. Barrett.

Lemmer School Entered; About $5 Is Missing

The John Lemmer School was entered this past weekend and about $5 is missing, it was reported today by Escanaba city police.

Entry was gained by breaking a small hole in the glass of a window on the north side of the building. About 46 cents was taken from the desk in the principal's office, about $4 or $5 from an adjoining room, and a transistor radio from the physical therapy room, officers reported. The investigation is continuing.

Police are also investigating a report by the Rev. Erland Carlson, pastor of Christ the King Lutheran Church, of an attempted burglary there. An unsuccessful effort had been made to pry open the safe in the basement, police said.

Open Housing Bill

Michigan is wrestling with its conscience and value system in the proposal for state legislation to compel "open housing." The term means that in real estate sales a seller could not deny sale to a would-be purchaser because of race, color, or religion.

The House of Representatives in recent special session rejected open housing, with more Democrats voting for it than Republicans, although the Republicans are the majority party.

The bill will be introduced again and the New Detroit Committee (organized after the riots to try to rebuild the city's society and reduce racism) and other civic, educational and religious groups will be urging its passage.

Real estate dealers have been apprehensive that they will be tabbed as the villains of this troubled issue because they bear the economic cost that could result from the legislation and have been identified with the effort for defeat of "open housing."

Bruce Annett, a Pontiac realtor who is a past president of the Michigan Real Estate Association, presented the view of realtors (11,000 of the state's best real estate brokers) to the House Civil Rights Committee of the Michigan Legislature on Nov. 27.

He suggested:

1. Passage of legislation on open housing would deny owners of private property control of the disposition of their property, contrary to the basic American concept of ownership.

2. Opening housing proponents imply that such laws are merely designed to obtain what is every American's right; to acquire real estate as his choice might dictate; implying that there is a constitutional right to acquire real estate.

The law is entirely contrary; owners of private real estate are at liberty to choose those with whom they will deal, whether their reasons be sound, capricious, or otherwise. There has never been a civil right given to anyone to acquire the real property of another without his full consent.

3. There is no precedent whatever for holding that under American common law a person has the right to rent or acquire property without regard for his race. It can be said, then, that no one has an endowed right to buy — a person only has a right to offer to buy — just as any other person has the equal right to offer to sell. Only when a willing seller and a willing buyer agree, in all respects, can a transaction be properly consummated.

4. Housing legislation of the type under consideration represents a drastic departure from the legal traditions and rules underlying real property transactions. Such legislation can be called "forced housing" inasmuch as it is intended to force upon an unwilling property owner a purchaser or tenant whom the owner could lawfully refuse under all existing rules of the law.

5. By overriding the wishes of the owner, the law has taken away the long-standing freedom of the property owner. Although it has been fundamentally a part of the American law that no contract could be forced on anyone without his consent, this rule is abridged by the legislation in question as it forces a transaction on the property owner without his consent.

It is further argued that open housing legislation is unfair in its practical impact on land developers, subdividers and private apartment owners because it would compel them to accept homeowners and tenants "whose presence may significantly deter the white market, upon whom they must depend for financial success and livelihood."

Instead of "open housing," give the Negro better housing, the realtors suggest.

They have a commercial problem growing out of public discrimination against Negroes. The public has a moral problem of tolerating that discrimination.

If America is not to suffer the moral canker that the South generated within itself by its subjection of Negroes after the Civil War, it must somehow find the courage to mean what it says when it talks about America being a land of freedom and equality.

There are real, deep problems in open housing legislation and it would be a snakepit for enforcement, but to reject it is to confirm the Negroes' charge that they do not have the full rights of American citizens; that when they become educated and affluent and want housing fitting their social qualifications they are denied it because of their color.

This violates the natural law and it supersedes the common law.

STUBBY

I would like to submit this unusual story about a special kitten which was born during mid-summer last year. The kitten was one of a litter of three, one black cat, one red-orange cat and this kitten we call stubby.

The reason we call her Stubby is because she has a short bob tail. (She was born that way). Her hair is gray and between short and long. A very cute round face with tufts of hair below her ears and extra big eyes. Her hind legs are much longer than her front legs and she hops along.

Land Use Hearing

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department has scheduled public hearings on proposed rules for public use of state lands other than parks and recreation areas for Jan. 16 at Marquette, Jan. 17 at Roscommon and Jan. 18 at Lansing. One proposed new regulation would put a 20-day limit on camping in any one state area. Another would restrict all motor vehicles to designated roads, trails and parking lots in southern Michigan game areas.

Her mother was an Angora Calico house cat and a family pet. Stubby must have three breeds, Angora, domestic short hair and Manx. Incidentally, the mother of these kittens was killed by a car when the kittens were a month old and another family pet adopted them into her own litter.

This is the first time I've seen a short tail in all the litters of household pets we've had, so we think she is a very special cat. And I thought many animal lovers would like to hear of this breed of cats.

When Canada Was New France

French Greed Led To British Coup

SAULT STE. MARIE, — Two French fur traders who dared to challenge the government monopoly of the fur trade in New France ignited the spark that gave the British their first firm foothold in Canada and eventually led to British domination.

It was on a trip to Sault Ste. Marie and beyond in 1656 that the two traders, Pierre Esprit Radisson and Medart Chouart de Groseilliers, discovered the one great secret of the fur trade which was up to then unknown by the French rulers in Quebec.

The two traders, who contributed considerably to knowledge of the Great Lakes country before the Sault was founded, will be honored by the Sault Tricentennial during Fur Trading Days next summer when the city celebrates its 300th birthday.

Radisson and Groseilliers were a hardy pair with courage enough for a dozen men. Radisson was born in 1636 at St. Malo, France, and came to the New World at the age of 15 to join two sisters in Three Rivers, a voyageurs' headquarters about halfway between Quebec and Montreal. The next year he was taken prisoner by the Mohawks and adopted into an Indian family to replace a lost son. He lived for two years with the Mohawks escaping in 1654 and returning to Three Rivers by way of New Amsterdam.

On his return, Radisson found one of his sisters married to Groseilliers. The older of the pair, Groseilliers, was born in 1621 in Brie, France, and came to the New World in 1637 as an assistant to the Jesuit mission to the Hurons. In 1646, having learned the Indian languages and become familiar with the Huron and Algonquin territories, he left the Jesuits and became a fur trader, marrying Radisson's sister in 1653. When Radisson returned the next year, the two men joined forces as fur traders.

At that time in history, the fur trade was a risky business for the French. Only a few years before the Five Nations of the Iroquois had set out on an aggressive campaign to exterminate the Hurons and Algonquins and seize for themselves the rich fur trade that was going to the French. Provided with guns by the Dutch and English on the Eastern Seaboard, the Iroquois swept through the Huron country in 1649. They destroyed the three French missions in Georgian Bay, killed more than 700 persons, including three French missionaries, and scattered the Hurons throughout the Great Lakes. Some Hurons fled to western Lake Superior and others as far west as the Mississippi. The Jesuits withdrew to Montreal with about 300 Huron survivors. Not a Huron was left in the Georgian Bay homeland and they were finished as a nation.

One result of this warfare was that the regular fur route through North Bay by way of the French and Ottawa Rivers was closed to the French by Iroquois war parties. Indian allies of the French feared to make the trip, and by 1653 the fur trade on the St. Lawrence had dwindled to the vanishing point.

However, the Hurons explored to the north and discovered an alternate and less dangerous route using the headwaters of the Ottawa River and avoiding the North Bay portage.

Following this route, a flotilla of Petun and Ottawa Indians arrived at Montreal in 1654 with a cargo of furs. Radisson and Groseilliers inaugurated their fur trading partnership by returning to the Great Lakes country with this group, spending the next two winters in the Green Bay area of Wisconsin.

The two traders returned to the St. Lawrence in the spring of 1656 with another Indian flotilla. Later in the summer they set out for the Great Lakes country again with a party of Hurons who had decided to try to run the North Bay portage. They had to fight their way through repeated attacks by the Iroquois, but finally made it to Georgian Bay and continued on to the St. Mary's River and the Sault.

There they built bark houses and rested after the hardships of the North Bay passage. As winter approached, however, they pushed on to the west where the tribes allied with the French had fled. The Potawatomi in their party invited the two Frenchmen to winter in the Potawatomi homeland at Green Bay, Wis., and this they did. On this trip, which lasted two years, they also explored the Wisconsin River and a part of the Mississippi.

This trip into the western lands resulted in two major accomplishments. One, they persuaded the Hurons and allied tribes to resume the fur trade with the French which had been interrupted by the Iroquois war. And two, they learned from the western tribes that the greatest source of furs was not in the Great Lakes country but in the land of the Cree, in the great Hudson Bay watershed north of the Great Lakes.

This knowledge Radisson and Groseilliers took with them when they returned to Quebec in the fall of 1658 with a fur flotilla described by Radisson as "60 canoes with 300 warriors and furs valued at 200,000 livres ($40,000)."

At Quebec they found three ships waiting to sail for France but which were empty of cargo. Radisson and Groseilliers immediately applied to Governor Argenson for a license to make another trip to the West.

The French fur trading system in those days was one of absolute monopoly granted to a certain company year by year under the direct authority of the king of France. The monopoly was a highly-priced concession, and to clear up friction, the old trading companies were swept away in 1628 and a new company called the Hundred Associates was formed.

But the power over the fur trade still rested in the hands of the king's representative, the governor of New France. This included the authority to grant licenses to trade to the voyageurs who went into the fur country and persuaded the Indians to bring their furs to Quebec.

Radisson and Groseilliers had no difficulty in obtaining a license for their 1656 trip, for they were dealing with a friendly authority, Governor Allean. However, in their absence, Allean had been replaced by Argenson, who told Radisson and Groseilliers that he would grant them a license only if they would agree to an equal division of the furs obtained.

The two traders considered this proposal to be nothing but plain highway robbery which they could not accept. They made up their minds to go to Hudson Bay without an official license, and left Three Rivers at night with a flotilla of 14 canoes manned by Ojibways and Nipissings.

Again their route took them to the Sault, which they reached in the fall of 1658. But this time they did not tarry. They hurried on into Lake Superior past the Pictured Rocks, which Radisson described in later writings, past the Keweenaw Peninsula, and on to the present site of Ashland, Wis., where they made camp for the winter.

When spring came they struck out for the north, over the height of land dividing the Great Lakes watershed, from the Hudson Bay watershed, and reached the headwaters of the Albany River, which was destined to become one of the greatest fur trading rivers of all time.

M16 Rifle Test Called Rigged By Rep. Findley

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has been accused of rigging tests of the M16 rifle to justify decisions making it the weapon used by all fighting men in Vietnam.

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., in an 800-word letter to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara termed worthless rifle tests to begin Jan. 10 in Panama in response to a House subcommittee request. He said the tests are to be conducted by the Institute for Defense Analysis and the Marine Corps—agencies which he said have already prejudged the M16 as reliable.

Findley said he will urge legislation to establish an independent weapons testing program under the General Accounting Office.

the Albany ran through a thousand miles of rich fur country from its source waters to its mouth on James Bay. As the two French traders swept along on the Albany's current, they persuaded the Indian villages along the way to join in a great fur flotilla.

They wintered in the fur country and the next spring began the homeward trip by way of James Bay and the Moose River system, sending the fur flotilla on ahead to the St. Lawrence.

By the time they reached Three Rivers in August, 1660, their flotilla numbered 360 canoes, carrying a fortune in furs which one historian has valued at $300,000 modern dollars.

And there they ran into big trouble. When they arrived, they learned that most of their furs had been confiscated by officials of the Hundred Associates as a fine and punishment for making an unauthorized trip.

Historians differ on the amount of the fine. One source says they lost a third of their goods. Another source says the two traders were left with only $20,000 out of the fortune they had accumulated on their trip.

And thus, through short-sighted greed by the Hundred Associates, began the chain of events which brought the mighty Hudson's Bay Co. of England into direct and successful competition with the French for the fur riches of the New World.

Enraged by the fine, Groseilliers left immediately for France to seek redress from the French court. He was rebuffed. While there, he tried to interest men of wealth in establishing a direct trade into Hudson Bay by ocean shipping routes first discovered by Martin Frobisher in 1578.

One wealthy merchant of Rochelle became interested in the venture and promised to send a ship, but did not carry through on the promise. Groseilliers returned to Canada.

Disgusted with their treatment at the hands of the French, the two traders sought English backing for their Hudson Bay venture.

At long last, in 1668, two ships were fitted out to make the voyage. Radisson sailed with Captain Stannard in the Eagle and Groseilliers with Captain Zachary Gillam in the Nonsuch. A storm at sea dissipated the Eagle and forced the ship to return to England. But the Nonsuch continued on to Hudson Bay where, in the late summer of 1668, Groseilliers established Charles Fort at the mouth of the Nemiskow River, now known as Rupert River.

The expedition wintered there and established a brisk trade in furs. By spring the 50-ton Nonsuch was loaded with furs and returned to England. That same season Radisson arrived in Hudson Bay and established another trading post at Fort Nelson.

The voyage of the Nonsuch guaranteed the success of a Hudson Bay venture. A group of courtier-investors headed by Prince Rupert immediately applied for a charter to trade, which was granted by King Charles in 1670.

The company thus formed was formally titled "The Governor and Company of Adventurers of England Trading into Hudson's Bay." The charter gave the company truly imperial powers—rights to the "sole trade and commerce" of Hudson Bay and all the territory drained by streams running into it.

Radisson and Groseilliers remained in English service until 1673 when, perhaps disappointed at the small rewards they received from the English, they returned to France, where they were pardoned by Louis XIV.

It is ironic that the Hudson's Bay Co. was founded in the same year, and virtually in the same month, that Father Marquette was founding the farthest French outpost at Sault Ste. Marie.

The French did not ignore the threat posed by the British in Hudson Bay. Many long years of fighting followed, in land campaigns and between warships in the waters of the bay. But the British always managed to hold at least one outpost, and since that time the company has grown into a great merchant empire which still operates 200 fur trading posts in Canada and 250 department stores, some of them among the largest and most modern in the world.

Jim: "You were in New York working on your backgammon book last fall. I note that you found time to pick up a few of your 10,000 Master Points by attending a sectional event at Grossinger's."

Oswald: "Yes. Gathered 11½ points there. It was a rather small sectional but one of the most delightful I ever attended. The food and service were wonderful, and with every player stopping at the Hotel, we had no trouble getting to the playing rooms from the dining room."

"The director never seemed to feel that he had to adhere to a definite schedule, and everyone liked the general informality. I had such a good time that in line with my new policy of playing only in events where I can really enjoy myself, I plan to return there for the Regional from the 11th to the 14th of this month. Here is one of the most interesting hands from last year's sectional."

Jim: "I assume you were South. That four spade bid looks like your style."

Oswald: "Actually the dummy disappointed me. I had hoped to find four spades. The play wasn't tough in any event."

Jim: "You ruffed the heart opening and must have had quite a problem at trick two. Assume that you led a club to your jack."

Oswald: "Exactly. West was in with the king and could do nothing to beat me. Actually, he led a second heart. I ruffed in dummy, discarded my last two hearts on the ace and queen of clubs and led dummy's queen of trumps. East played his ace and put me back in dummy with a diamond. I led and ruffed a fourth club; played my king of trumps and conceded a trick to the jack."

Jim: "Simple indeed. Was your score a top?"

Oswald: "Not quite — only 11½ out of a possible 12."

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department has named a freeway rest area on northbound U.S. 23 south of Dundee in Monroe County for Neil MacDougall of Lansing. MacDougall retired in December after 37 years with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, the last 12 years as Michigan division engineer.

Ann Landers Miniskirt Adorns Picture Of Desk

Dear Ann Landers: My husband took an old desk out of the storage room, sanded it down, stained it and varnished it. Sidney was so proud of his handiwork he decided to get rid of his expensive office desk and use the reconditioned one instead.

Last week he hired a photographer to take a picture of him at the desk. With him in the picture is a big-busted, blonde secretary who is taking dictation. She is wearing a miniskirt. At first glance it looks like she is wearing a long blouse and a girdle.

Sidney shows the picture to everyone who comes to the house. He pretends to be showing off his desk but he is really showing off his secretary. The men poke each other in the ribs, exchange winks and make suggestive remarks. This annoys me and he knows it, but he does it anyway. Should I insist that he fire the secretary and burn the picture? Your advice will be followed. — UNDECIDED.

Dear Un: Don't attach more importance to the miniskirted, Magna-busted girl than she deserves. If there was anything to be concerned about, Sidney wouldn't have her photographed and bring the picture home. Forget it.

Dear Ann Landers: You saved me $15,000 and I want to thank you.

The letter from the mother whose sons kept gouging her for money sounded so much like my boys I was stunned. Perhaps it's the luckiest coincidence of a lifetime that I am a steady reader of your column. My older son borrowed $2,000 from me five years ago and I haven't heard from him since. I tried to locate him but he moved and left no forwarding address. Several people have run into him on the street, in theaters and restaurants, but no one seems to know where he lives or works.

The younger son and his wife never have time for me unless they want a favor. This morning he called, and in a voice dripping with honey, asked if I would lend him $15,000 for a new car and a down payment on a larger home.

I said, "Sorry, but I need to hang on to what money I have because nobody is going to take care of me when I am old and broke." He was furious and let me know I was a "lousy mother." So, thank you, Ann. You are a real friend. — LOUSY BUT SOLVENT

Dear Solvent: Please continue to read the column. You might pick up some fringe benefits.

Dear Ann Landers: The doctor says all my symptoms are due to "nerves." I know he is right. But who wouldn't be nervous after 14 years of sharing a house with in-laws?

My husband and I and our two children have never had a meal alone. I have never been able to do my own grocery marketing or cooking. My mother-in-law has always told me what to do and I have done it to keep the peace.

When we started sharing this house, my husband said it was 'temporary' and I believed him. Through the years whenever I have mentioned it's time we got our own place, he said, "We can't afford it and, besides, the folks would miss us."

From a cheerful, happy-go-lucky person, I have turned into a depressed, weeping shrew. Do you have an advice about two families sharing one house. — NERVOUS WRECK

Dear Wreck: Yes, I do and I have printed it many times. No house is big enough for two families — especially in-laws. Somewhere in this wide, wonderful world there must be an exception to this rule. If anyone out there knows of an exception, cut me in on it, will you?

How will you know when the real thing comes along? Ask Ann Landers. Send for her booklet, "Love Or Sex And How To Tell The Difference." Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

World Service Appeal Drive Concludes Here

Escanaba residents contributed over $2,400 to the annual World Service Appeal of the Escanaba Seventh-day Adventist Church.

Pastor L. A. Pomeroy said church members and children personally visited most community homes and solicited donations during the last four weeks.

"All funds go to a central fund with allotments made according to need," commented Pastor Pomeroy.

World Service Appeals, according to Pastor Pomeroy, will extend medical, welfare and educational services in 200 countries including the United States. Last year the Seventh-day Adventist Church aided more than eight million persons, distributing more than 9.6 million articles of clothing, donating nearly 11 million hours of volunteer time, and contributing nearly five million dollars in cash and food in its welfare program.

The director of Escanaba Welfare activities, Mrs. John Oliver, reports that last Christmas, Escanaba Adventists distributed about two dozen boxes of foodstuff, gifts for children, as well as clothing and bed linen to the needy in this area.

Pastor Pomeroy said the denomination operates 137 sanitariums and hospitals and 183 dispensaries and clinics around the world.

Sunday night, Escanaba church members celebrated their victory in the drive for funds for World Service Appeal with a potluck dinner at the church at 6:30 p.m.

HOME FURNITURE NEWS

SPECIAL EFFECTS in interior decorating can often be achieved subtly by the use of just a few pieces, or by the judicious use of color and accessories.

Suppose, for instance, you like the Oriental effect which is quite popular today. You don't have to go all the way to an all-Eastern home. Gain the flavor you want by choosing an Oriental vase or an antique screen, or an authentic lacquered chest. Add a few brass accents, and pick up your Far Eastern theme with colors such as jade, soft antique gold or peacock blue.

This way you create a pleasing Oriental atmosphere, though most of your furnishings remain American contemporary. The same principle can enable you to decorate with a Spanish theme or any other you particularly like. The result will be rooms that are not overdone, that you will not grow tired of readily.

If you're one who likes to change things . . . and lean toward unusual effects . . . create them with accent pieces as we've suggested. Choose your basic furnishings, the major pieces, from our fine lines of elegant furnishings, with simplicity of line that readily adapts to many decorating moods.

Come in and let us help you create the special effects of comfort and beauty you want in your home!

Judge Accepts 2 Guilty Pleas

Two men charged with the breaking and entering of Big Bay de Noc High School at Nahma on Nov. 30 pleaded guilty today when arraigned in Delta County Circuit Court and were remanded to custody pending sentencing.

Judge Bernard H. Davidson accepted the guilty pleas from John Ambrose Beaver, 20, of Rte. 3, Rapid River (Ensign) and John Alfred Bell Jr., 38, of Marquette.

Both admitted entering the school under questioning by Judge Davidson prior to accepting the pleas.

Sentencing for both men was set for 2:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 19. Maximum prison term possible is 10 years.

The two arraignments were the only criminal cases heard this morning as the January term of court opened.

Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas Chapekis said that John R. Besaw, Rte. 1, Rock, who is also charged with breaking and entering has fled the state. Chapekis said extradition proceedings to return him to Delta County are underway. Besaw is accused of breaking and entering a garage in Maple Ridge Township. He had been free on bond.

No action was taken on an appeal by Robert Kallman, 46, Rte. 1, Cornell, of a Justice Court conviction for obstructing a conservation officer.

U.S. 2 Development By State Sought

Fifty-five officials from seven U.P. counties laid the groundwork for a cooperative program of improvement for Highway US-2, at a conference Friday at the Dickinson Hotel in Iron Mountain, under the sponsorship of the Norway-Vulcan Civic Club US-2 Highway Improvement Committee. William Asselin, of Norway was chairman.

The conference heard Richard Lilly, a member of the planning staff of the Michigan Highway Department, say that the Highway Department has only four improvements jobs planned for US-2 to July 1, 1972 — and only one of these can be considered a major project.

Lilly said that these projects include:

1. Improvement of an undulating 10-mile stretch of US-2 east of Rapid River.
2. Resurfacing of US-2 in Iron Mountain.
3. Emergency jobs between Wakefield and Gogebic Station.
4. A small job in the City of Wakefield.

Merge Thinking
Only the work project east of Rapid River could be considered a major expenditure.

Jury To Hear Robbery Case

GRAND RAPIDS — Three persons accused of robbing a bank at Negaunee Dec. 11 will appear before a grand jury here Tuesday.

Scheduled to appear as defendants in the robbery are John M. White, 22, of Niagara, Wis.; Ronald D. Mills, 20, of Helenwood, Tenn.; and James Waymire, 16, of Upland, Ind.

The three are currently in custody at Marquette after being captured in Niagara the day after the robbery.

The three defendants previously appeared before United States Commissioner John Duffy at Green Bay and are being held in lieu of $15,000 bail each.

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents have charged the men in connection with the robbery of the drive-in branch of the First National Bank of Negaunee. Officers said the robbers got $6,914. Most of the loot was recovered.

Job Corps To Honor Center On NMU Campus

MARQUETTE — An open house and a community recognition day program will be held Wednesday, Jan. 24 at Northern Michigan University's Women's Job Corps Center.

Local, state and national leaders of education, civic, social and governmental agencies are expected to attend the day's program, according to Dr. Bert Jones, center director.

The day's activities will include a recognition luncheon and continuous guided tours of the center's training facilities and the residence hall on the NMU campus where the girls are housed. Recognition awards will be presented to persons in the community who have "contributed toward the development and interpretation" of the Job Corps program since its inception on the NMU campus in June, 1966.

While invitations are being issued, the program is open to the public. NMU's Job Corps Center — first ever on a university campus — has an enrollment of approximately 300.

Basically, the program of cooperation between the counties would seek to merge the thinking of the Michigan Highway Department and those geographically involved in the program. Counties involved in the program would include Schoolcraft, Delta, Dickinson, Menominee, Mackinac, Iron and Gogebic.

The program will be launched by the US-2 Improvement Committee of the Norway-Vulcan Civic Club at the start. Each board of supervisors in the various counties involved will be asked to select one of its members to serve on the overall US-2 highway improvement committee. This committee, in turn, would work to involve as many individuals, organizations and groups as possible in the program to obtain major US-2 highway improvement.

It was stressed that the US-2 group has no intention to oppose any other roadway development in the Upper Peninsula. Asselin emphasized that the majority of the county boards and legislative officials support an accelerated program for US-2. "It is obvious to many that US-2 needs improvement in several areas now, and certainly we should expect an accelerated modernization program over the years ahead."

Heavily Industrialized
The areas covered by US-2 and the connecting highways reach into and are a part of the most heavily industrialized business and service areas in the Upper Peninsula. The highway is also the main artery of travel for more than one-third of the U.P.'s population," Asselin said.

Ship Bombing Storm Doubtful

WASHINGTON (AP) — American and Soviet diplomatic files are crammed with harsh accusations and strong protests exchanged in many years of Cold War shooting incidents. But neither superpower ever has gone beyond tough words.

Both know a small incident could mushroom into a serious clash of arms.

So it appears likely the latest fuss—over alleged U.S. bomb damage to a Soviet freighter in Haiphong Harbor—will sputter out without major military consequences.

The Soviet Union protested formally Thursday night that U.S. warplanes dropped bombs the same day near the 3,726-ton freighter Tereyaslav-Zaleskiy while the ship was unloading flour.

The Soviets called it a "piratical attack."

Without confirming the Soviet version, the United States replied that any damage which might have occurred "was inadvertent and is regretted by the U.S. government."

Rapid River

The meeting of the Rapid 4-H club scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Jan. 15.

Royal Neighbors
The Royal Neighbors of Rapid River will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Carl Stenlund.

"When the Northern Great Lakes Resources Development Committee set down recommendations to stimulate progress and travel in the Upper Peninsula, it unanimously suggested that US-2 be modernized. A review of its condition has since revealed the need."

"Beginning at the Mackinac Bridge outlet, Highway US-2's condition is inappropriate considering its importance for travel in the Upper Peninsula," Asselin said.

He also pointed out that the I-75 freeway traffic at its minimal flow is only 20 per cent more than the flow of traffic on US-2.

Letters Read
Assisting Asselin at the conference were Norway - Vulcan Civic Club US-2 improvement committee members Donald Brumbaugh, Philip L. Huntley, and Robert Paul.

Brumbaugh read letters from Congressman Philip Ruppe, Senator Joseph Mack and Senator Thomas Schweigert, all pledging their support in the program, and all recognizing that US-2 is "badly in need of improvement."

Legislators attending the conference were Representatives Jack Gingrass (D-Iron Mountain) and Charles Varnum (R-Manistique).

Asselin said that he did not blame the Highway Department for its planned program for US-2 but emphasized that "we should blame ourselves for not getting together to develop a course of action."

Soul Searching Needed
Lilly, in his presentation, said: "We must do a lot of soul searching — the Highway Department the local people — to determine what is best for our highways. We feel that highways are the most important mode of travel. Highways are vital to the economy, and the department will do everything to expedite the construction of highways everywhere."

Representative Varnum told the conference that a vital necessity in any program to obtain US-2 highway improvement is to have complete statistics for presentation to the Highway Department.

Prior to adjournment, the conference approved conducting another meeting in Iron Mountain as soon as possible.

Forecast For Wednesday Is Cold; -17 Today

zero at Vanderbilt in Otsego County.

Severe winter weather sent freezing temperatures deep into the South.

Many deaths were attributed to the weather.

Gale warnings were posted from Rhode Island to Maine as the remnants of a savage snowstorm moved out of New England. The East was digging out of up to 10 inches of fresh snow which fell Sunday.

Deep South Hit
A storm gathered momentum in the Southwest today and the Weather Bureau issued heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings for parts of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas.

And bitter cold weather swept into the Deep South. Lows of near zero were reported over portions of Tennessee and North Carolina. Temperatures dipped into the upper 20s in northern Florida. Snow flurries fell in the mountains of eastern Tennessee and North Carolina Sunday.

The Weather Bureau said hard freezes were expected from Mississippi to southern Texas.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 72 at Key West, Fla., to 30 below zero at International Falls, Minn.

Plymouth Draft Office Destroyed In Sunday Blaze

PLYMOUTH (AP) — A blaze that firemen fought for more than 10 hours in near zero weather Sunday destroyed a two-story building contain a local draft board.

"To my knowledge nothing in the building was saved," said Richard Blodgett, city manager of this Detroit-area community of 10,000.

He added that any draft records destroyed in the blaze probably are duplicated at Selective Service headquarters in Washington. Local draft board officials were not immediately available for comment.

Blodgett declined comment on the cause of the fire, saying he would rather have that information come from Fire Chief George Schoenman, hospitalized overnight for exhaustion.

Blodgett said, however, he had no reason to believe the fire, which started in the basement of the building, was the result of arson. An investigation is still in progress, he said.

Vision Tests Set For Delta

The Delta-Menominee District Health Department and the Delta County Schools will conduct a vision screening program for school age children in January and February.

Vision screening programs have been carried on in the schools for many years. Through these programs, many children who need the attention of an eye specialist have been identified.

More than 80 per cent of all school tasks are based on vision. Not only school achievement but personality, posture, and adjustment to life are closely integrated with vision. Many retarded readers have neglected vision problems. "Four out of 10 grade school children in the United States are visually handicapped for adequate school achievement," says Dr. Mary L. Cretens, director of the Delta Menominee Health Department.

Children will be tested for near vision, which is the ability to focus and see clearly and comfortably with both eyes and each eye separately at a distance of about 15 inches. This is the distance at which most school desk work is done. They will also be checked for distant vision, a distance of 20 feet or more. This is necessary to see the chalkboard. The third test is binocular co-ordination which is the ability to make the two eyes work together. This is necessary for all school work.

Mrs. Jeanette Manning, a certified vision technician, will be examining the children with a Titmus Vision Screener. Parents will be notified of any vision difficulties found.

Ishpeming Smashes Scoring Record In Beating Newberry

By JIM TRETHUWEY
Maybe it's because they're still rated No. 2 in the Upper Peninsula that Ishpeming's Hematites are trying harder.
Winners of eight straight games, Coach Gordon Farragh's cagers are maintaining a winning tradition established for many years under C. C. Watson and continued under Duane Phillips the last five seasons. They'll get their chance at the No. 1 spot later this month when they tangle with Menominee, the Michigan Class B king which has a 15-game victory string going.
In their latest outing the Hematites broke the school's scoring record by walloping Newberry, 104-34. Farragh got his regulars out of the game as soon as possible, but the reserves couldn't be stopped. The previous Ishpeming point mark was an even 100 at Stephenson Jan. 21, 1961.
While no one doubts that Menominee is the "big" opponent on Ishpeming's schedule, Farragh — who went to Ishpeming after considerable success at Champion and Kingsford — isn't letting his players forget that the Maroons aren't the only ones who matter.
"They'll all be pointing for us," he said. "We've got to play them one at a time."

Sophomore Aces Learn Lesson In Big Ten Openers

CHICAGO (AP) — Rick Mount of Purdue and Rudy Tomjanovich of Michigan, two of the more heralded sophomores in the Big Ten this season, were given startling lessons by veterans in conference openers Saturday.
Mount and his Boilermaker teammates invaded Ohio State Saturday where there was to have been a scoring duel between the Purdue sensation and Buckeye Bill Hosket.
Although Mount scored a creditable 19 points it turned out to be no contest as Hosket poured in 35 for a career high and led Ohio State to a surprisingly easy 108-80 triumph over Purdue.
Tomjanovich also made his conference debut with a 19-point performance but Joe Franklin, an old hand at scoring, poured in 34 points to lead Wisconsin to a shaky 77-75 triumph over the Wolverines.
Another battle of sophomores versus veteran took place at Evanston and this time oldtimer Sam Williams outshone the youngsters with a 30-point outburst but Iowa lost to Northwestern 76-67 as sophomores Don Adams and Dale Kelly scored 21 and 17 points, respectively.
Indiana and Illinois completed the sweep of home team victories Saturday.
The Hoosiers, defending co-champions, walloped Minnesota 74-59 as Bill DeHeer topped Indiana with 17 points while Minnesota's Tom Kondla, last season's conference scoring champion, was held to 16.
Illinois, employing a sticky defense and a cautious offense, made Coach Harv Schmidt's Big Ten debut a success with a 66-56 triumph over co-champion Michigan State.
Dave Scholtz paced the Illini with 21 points and Mike Price chipped in with 19 including a flurry of free throws in the closing minutes which helped provide the triumph. Randy Crews held Spartan ace Lee Lafayette to six points.
One nonconference game is on tap Monday with Loyola of Chicago at Iowa but the Big Ten race resumes Tuesday with Indiana at Illinois and Wisconsin at Purdue.
Saturday's schedule finds Illinois at Minnesota, Michigan State at Michigan, Northwestern at Indiana and Ohio State at Iowa in a regionally televised afternoon game.

Homan, Hammond Join Up For South Grid Win In Senior Bowl Battle

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Alabama's Dennis Homan and Florida State's Kim Hammond apparently believe that "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em."
Neither won way back in September when Alabama battled Florida State to a 37-37 tie, despite two touchdown catches by Homan and three scoring tosses by Hammond.
But they teamed up for the South Saturday and led Dixie to a 34-21 whipping of the North in the 19th annual Senior Bowl battle.
Homan was picked as the South's top lineman and Hammond was named the best back and the game's most valuable player.
The Alabama end caught a 17-yard touchdown pass and set up three other scores with pass catches and a long run on an end-around play, Hammond tossed the touchdown throw to Homan and also hit on a scoring strike to Lamar Tech's Tom Smiley.
The victory was only the South's second in 11 battles with outsiders in bowl and all-star games, but Tennessee center Bob Johnson said, "That did a lot to square things up."
Johnson said the Dixie standouts wanted to make up for their dismal bowl showing "and I feel we made up a lot of lost ground by winning this one."
The North was a touchdown underdog but was blasted out of contention early in the second half after it gambled and failed on a fourth and one inch situation on its 30-yard line.
The South quickly scored a touchdown and then added 10 more points in the third quarter to clinch the conquest, which boosted Dixie's edge in the series to 12-6-1.
Individual standouts for the South included defensive linemen Forrest Bue of Auburn and Claude Humphreys of Tennessee A&I and linebacker Greg Pipes of Baylor.
The North was given an early shot in the arm by the passing of Paul Toscano of Wyoming, who hit on 10 straight throws in the first half and tossed a touchdown pass to his Wyoming teammate, Jim Kick. Haven Moses of San Diego State set a Senior Bowl record by returning a kickoff 100 yards, and Toledo's John Schneider threw a 43-yard pass to Ken Dyer of Arizona State for the other North score.
Toscano was chosen as the North's top back and Moses, an end, was picked as the best lineman.

Red Wings Slip To Last In Pro Hockey Standings

DETROIT (AP)—With reluctant goalie Roger Crozier looking on from the stands, the Detroit Red Wings dropped into last place in the National Hockey League's Eastern Division Sunday night.
Gilles Tremblay's third-period goal lifted the Montreal Canadiens to a 4-3 victory.
"It was a crime to lose it after playing so well," said Sid Abel, manager-coach of the Wings.
Abel said Crozier, the former All-Star goalie who quit the team Nov. 6 because "I just don't have it anymore," arrived unannounced at the Wings' lockerroom before the game.
"He said he would come down Monday and skate a little," said Abel. "But no decisions have been made."

Broncos Post Cage Triumph

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Western Michigan, which won only two of its first seven games, is off and running in the Mid-American Conference basketball race.
The Broncos, paced by 20 points each from Gene Ford and Reggie Lacey, nipped Ohio University 86-84 before 6,419 fans.
Mark McClintock of Ohio University led all scorers with 21 points. The loss was Ohio's seventh in 10 games.

Abel, manager-coach of the Wings.
Abel said Crozier, the former All-Star goalie who quit the team Nov. 6 because "I just don't have it anymore," arrived unannounced at the Wings' lockerroom before the game.
"He said he would come down Monday and skate a little," said Abel. "But no decisions have been made."
In other NHL games, New York beat Toronto 6-2, Chicago dumped Boston 4-2, Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 3-1 and Oakland humbled Los Angeles 6-0.
The loss, Detroit's second straight, dropped the Wings into the cellar, one point back of Montreal and New York.
The 25-year-old Crozier, in the second year of a record $25,000 four-year contract, was noncommittal when asked about his plans to resume his NHL career after a two-month layoff.
"It's as bad sitting up here (stands) as it was being out there (on the ice)," he told newsmen. "But I've got an open mind about coming back."

Crozier quit the team unexpectedly after giving up 18 goals in three games, all losses, saying he had "lost my touch."
"I was the most shocked man in the world when Crozier walked in our dressing room before the game to say hello," said Abel, who added he hadn't had a word from the goalie since he left Detroit for his Bracebridge, Ont., home.
The Wings have offered Crozier a chance to return, but he would have to work himself back into shape in the minors, and then beat out rookie Roy Edwards and reserve George Gardner.

"This is the first hockey I've seen since I left Detroit," Crozier said. "I haven't even seen a game on television up at Bracebridge. And I can't say I really missed it."

Crozier said he made the trip to Detroit to settle some business problems and called Alex Delvecchio "and asked him to get me a ticket for the game."

Detroit fell behind Montreal 3-1 before tying the score on goals by Howie Young and Gary Jarrett in the second period.
Tremblay scored his 13th goal from out of a scramble in front of the Detroit net and beat Edwards from close range.
Edwards made some brilliant saves, stopping Yvan Cournoyer, Ralph Backstrom and Tremblay at point-blank after breakaways. Detroit outshot Montreal 39 to 28 but veteran Gump Worsley blanked the Wings in the third period to preserve the victory.
Cournoyer slapped a rebound by Edwards for his 12th goal in the first period but Delvecchio, taking a pass from Gordie Howe after a steal, knotted the score at the 10:13 mark.

Goals by Mickey Redmond, his fifth, and Jean Beliveau, his 14th, put the Canadiens ahead 3-1 before Young blasted a slap shot from the blue line past Worsley for his second goal and Jarrett scored his 13th to knot the score.

Jean Ratelle scored three goals less than five minutes apart to lead New York to victory over Toronto. The hat trick was Ratelle's first in the NHL. Murry Oliver and Dave Keon scored for Toronto.

Bobby Hull scored his 40th and 401st NHL goals as first place Chicago beat Boston. The victory moved the Black Hawks three points up on second place Boston.

Hull's 400th goal placed him in the same company with Detroit's Howe, former Montreal star Maurice Richard and Beliveau.

In the Western Division, first-place Philadelphia held on to its lead by beating Pittsburgh as Lou Favell of the Flyers wrapped up the "least goals allowed" title for the first half of the season.

Favell and Bernie Parent, who have divided goal tending duties for the Flyers, allowed only 77 goals in the first 37 games, five fewer than Toronto. Favell and Parent will split the $250 prize.

Oakland's Gerry Egan scored the hat trick to lead the Seals out of an 11-game losing streak and hand the Los Angeles Kings their eighth straight loss. The Seals scored four goals in the final period.

Rams Stomp Browns, 30-6

MIAMI (AP) — Coach George Allen of the Los Angeles Rams said "we took this game as seriously as any game we've played," and the Rams reflected it by drubbing the Cleveland Browns 30-6 in the National Football League Playoff Bowl in the Orange Bowl Sunday.

"We wanted to let the world know this is as good a team as any playing next week," Allen said, referring to the Super Bowl game between the Green Bay Packers and Oakland Raiders in the same stadium next Sunday.

Quarterback Roman Gabriel of the Rams, voted the Most Valuable Player in the game, expressed his pleasure to a nationwide television audience when he said:

"I want to thank everybody in Miami for making our stay here so enjoyable."

He didn't mention the Browns, but he might have for they didn't come alive until the last quarter and scored with just over four minutes left in the game.

"I hear everybody talk about nobody getting up for this game," said David "Deacon" Jones, 260-pound defensive end for the Rams. "Let me tell you, these guys have a lot of pride."

Allen said his whole club had incentive despite distractions from the Teamsters Union, pre-draft rumors and a visit to a dog track.

"We got a lot of calls and criticisms for working twice," he said of Wednesday's unprecedented double practice session. "But that's the only way to play."

A Cleveland Browns' official, who asked not to be identified, blamed the union talk for part of his team's listless first half.

"Some of these players are preoccupied with outside influences," he said in the dressing room afterward. "I know they attended a union meeting Saturday night. Is that any way to prepare for a football game?"

The National Football League Players' Association met Saturday night in Hollywood and agreed to register as a union with the U.S. Department of Labor.

Art Modell, president of the Browns, admitted that the meeting "didn't help" the Browns' play, and said a personnel shakeup was ahead.

Cleveland had a 9-5 record in winning the Century Division title but lost to the Dallas Cowboys 21-17 in the playoffs.

The Escanaba High School freshman basketball team defeated Marquette, 52-36, in a title but lost to the Dallas Cowboys 21-17 in the playoffs.

Houston Wins 15th In Row In Warmup For Jan. 20 Battle

By The Associated Press
North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee, fighting for attention and clawing their way up the ladder of national college basketball rankings, all have one big plus going for them. They don't play UCLA.

Not so Houston. The second-ranked Cougars face a Jan. 20 showdown with the awesome Bruins in the Houston Astrodome, a game already assured of the largest attendance in college basketball history. Over 48,000 tickets already have been sold.

The Cougars warmed up for that one with a 118-81 rout of Centenary Saturday, with All-American Elvin Hayes tossing in 40 points. It was Houston's 15th straight in an unbeaten season.

But UCLA, dominating the game as perhaps no team has ever done before, methodically routed Washington 93-65. Lew Alcindor scored 38 for the Bruins, who ran their unbeaten streak to 44 straight.

North Carolina, No. 3, Kentucky, No. 5, and Tennessee, No. 6, also won, Kentucky with an impressive 94-78 triumph over fourth-ranked Vanderbilt.

North Carolina edged a tough Duke team 75-72 while Tennessee humbled Alabama 82-63.

St. Bonaventure, No. 9, romped over Niagara 101-72, holding Niagara's Calvin Murphy to 25 points, his lowest of the season. It was unbeaten St. Bonaventure's 11th straight.

New Mexico, ranked 10th, also remained unbeaten, scoring its 13th straight, 71-64 over a tough New Mexico State team.

But Oklahoma City, ranked No. 8 and previously unbeaten, suffered a stunning 74-63 reversal at the hands of Portland, which hadn't won in 17 previous games. Rich Travis, the No. 3 scorer in the nation, was held to eight points.

Pete Maravich, the country's leader, had 32 for Louisiana State, but the Tigers lost to Florida 97-90.

"We've been getting great effort and poise," New Mexico Coach Bob King said after the Lobos' victory. "When you get effort you can beat anybody."

But the way UCLA, Houston and Kentucky did it, it seemed effortless.

UCLA, the defending national champion, wrecked Washington's man-to-man defense and broke the game open in the first half when it held the Huskies without a field goal for seven minutes.

Houston had all five starters in double figures, blocked 21 Centenary shots and stole the ball 24 times.

Kentucky hit on 15 of its first 18 shots, ran up a 30 point lead and romped in.

"I've never had a team shoot so quick and far so long," Coach Adolph Rupp said. "I'm not sure I ever even saw a team do it."

Davidson whipped St. John's, N.Y. 70-54, Columbia stunned Brown 71-47, Arizona beat Arizona State 74-69 and Army upset Temple 61-55 in some other major action.

Pack, Raiders Reach Florida

MIAMI (AP) — The world champion Green Bay Packers and the challenging Oakland Raiders lumbered off airplanes here Sunday to begin training for next weekend's Super Bowl.

The Raiders hustled onto a bus bound for Boca Raton with the Packers headed for Fort Lauderdale where the team will practice.

The National Football League super-team wasted little time in getting down to business. Within three hours of landing they were holding a meeting at their hotel headquarters.

Packer Coach Vince Lombardi said the team's initial practice Monday would be open to the public but that following workouts would be secret.

He scheduled daily workouts through game time next Sunday.

Raider Coach John Rauch said his American Football League champions will also work daily and add, "We have a lot to do."

Rauch said, "This is our greatest challenge. The Packers represent the best in professional football and it will take a great effort to beat them."

Duffy's North Squad Big Winner In 'Hula'

HONOLULU (AP) — Do football teams practice too much? Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State coach who handled the North All-Stars when they demolished a South All-Star team 50-6 in the 22nd Hula Bowl game Saturday, was wondering that himself.

"Maybe we coaches take this game too seriously and make it too complex," Daugherty said. "We practiced exactly four hours for this game, and we played as a unit beautifully."

Of course, Daugherty had the services of his own quarterback, Jimmy Raye, and Rick Cassata of Syracuse to handle the North attack, with fullback Larry Csonka of Syracuse to power it. He also had Johnny Wright of Illinois, who caught two touchdown passes, including a 48-yarder from Cassata, after a pitchout from Raye in some fourth-quarter razzle-dazzle.

On defense, Daugherty had

Wayne Meylan of Nebraska and huge Harry Gunner of Oregon State, who were unbeatable.

Gunner spent most of the afternoon knocking down South quarterback Gary Beban, just as he had during the regular season.

"We couldn't handle Meylan," Beban said. "And every time I thought I saw daylight that big number 90 Gunner closed it up."

It was the third straight victory for the North, fifth of the last six and most lopsided margin in Hula Bowl history.

The game was televised live to the Mainland via Lani Bird satellite.

Csonka was the first back ever to win outstanding honors unanimously in this game which has featured 13 Heisman Trophy winners over the years.

Gunner and Meylan split the lineman votes, with Gunner winning the nod.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Let's put it this way—if it were a human being I'd strongly advise it to start making out its last will and testament."

Spartans Drop Big Ten Start

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Michigan State, figured to be one of the top teams in the Big Ten basketball race this year, has started off on the wrong foot.

John Benington's defending co-conference champs blew a 33-29 halftime lead, in falling victim to a tenacious Illinois defense which held the Spartans to 23 points in a 66-56 Illini victory.

Illinois began to pull away steadily after switching from a man-to-man to a 1-3-1 zone in the second half. Randy Crews put the clamps on MSU scoring star Lee Lafayette, holding the big junior forward to six points. Lafayette came into the game with an 18.2 scoring average.

Illinois hit on 18 of 27 foul shots as the Spartans were called for 21 violations. MSU hit only six of 12.

The Spartans outshot the Illini from the field, hitting 25 of 58 field goal attempts to 24 of 56 for Illinois.

Steve Rymal topped MSU with 18 while Mike Price had 19 for Illinois.

1968 Legislature Has Controversy On Open Housing

LANSING (AP) — The emotion-charged issue of open housing, combined with anticrime and antiriot legislation and fanned by memories of last summer's Detroit riot, promises to dominate the 1968 regular legislative session.

When Gov. George Romney steps before the Legislature Thursday to deliver his annual State of the State Message he is certain to include the controversial subjects in his recommended legislation.

And many legislators feel the success or failure of efforts to solve the problems of crime and riots is likely to determine the outcome of open housing in the session, which gets under way Wednesday.

Budget Thorny

Although the lawmakers also will take up the complicated task of reorganizing Michigan's lower court system and the always thorny problem of budgeting the state's money, these issues rank far behind open housing and antiriot and anticrime legislation in arousing public interest.

Backers of a statewide open housing law already have begun organizing a campaign to push for passage of the measure — which met defeat in the House last month during the special session called by Romney.

A special Governor's Commission on Crime has submitted a list of 25 recommendations for anticrime and antiriot measures, asking Romney to submit them to the Legislature for action.

Some legislators feel the open housing bill would have fared better in the special session had Romney also placed measures aimed at crime and riot control on the agenda.

Enforcement Needed

One senator, George Kuhn, R-Birmingham, flatly refused to vote for any special legislation until action was taken to control "crime in the streets."

Backers of open housing argued that the crime and riot situations involved a need for better enforcement rather than new laws.

Even so, the open housing bill fell nine votes short of the 56 required for House passage.

The only measure which could be considered an anticrime bill — a proposal to create a State Police reserve — was approved in the Senate, but died in House committee. A similar proposal is expected to be introduced in the regular session.

The crime commission's recommendations dealing with riots included proposals which would outlaw possession of incendiaries, make it a crime to interfere with an on-duty fireman, and grant to mayors, sheriffs and the State Police director authority to declare a state of emergency.

Police Salary Aid

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has recommended legislation which would provide for courses on law and order for school children, state aid for police salaries, full-time prosecutors in all counties, compensation for crime victims and extension of the maximum one-man grand jury term from one year to two years.

Not included in either the commission's or Kelley's recommendations, but virtually certain to be introduced by lawmakers are proposals for a "stop and frisk" law and providing subpoena powers for prosecutors.

Many backers of open housing believe the state will face worse rioting next summer if the Legislature turns down the measure.

Others, including Senate Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, predicts riots will sweep Detroit and other Michigan cities regardless of whether open housing is approved or not.

"I think it will blow higher than a kite," Lockwood has predicted.
